How can students have more say in their Learning?
1. Create discussions in classes and year levels to discover what students need and how teachers can incorporate these into their learning plans
2. Have known consequences if work is handed up late or if a student is disorganised.
3. Have teachers plan together so that due dates are not all on the same day.
4. Have matrices to guarantee that all students know when assignments are due.

Teacher Student Relationships
1. Teachers let students explain the task to each other.
2. Students have a say in task design.
3. A Year 10-12 student “Discipline Jury” is created.

The litter problem at Hallett Cove School
1. More bins be placed around the school
2. Holes in the top of bin

Students are following through on these recommendations with the support of Andrew Gohl (Assistant Principal, Student Voice) as part of our student voice strategy at HCS. This has been a very insightful experience for the 60 students involved in this process. Student leaders will continue to use the quality tools for other whole school improvement strategies.

Literacy Planning
A number of staff have formed a literacy Professional Learning Community (PLC) to establish effective strategies to continue with our efforts to improve literacy at HCS. Below are the categories that the PLC focused on.

1. Document individual Area of Study (AoS) the literacy agreements from existing Operational Plans and review at Curriculum meetings.
2. Monitor three site literacy agreements via the AC planners, AoS meetings and in Professional Development focus on editing and drafting.
3. Improve staff confidence with Professional Learning to up skill and explore ‘Literacy for Learning’ modules.
4. Consistency in literacy improvement strategies, expectations, language and use of exemplars.
5. Designing literate practice and having evidence for all learners.

Julie Lambert (Head of Middle School) led the literacy PLC through the processes. A successful way forward for HCS has been established. The Term 4 Pupil Free Day will focus on this plan.

MP Visit to School
Amanda Rishworth, Federal Member of Parliament, was our special guest at the Junior School Assembly in Week 3 this term. Amanda presented the Australian, Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander flags to our Principal Mary Askas. Our MP engaged the students by asking questions and giving detailed background information about the history of each flag. The students were encouraged in answering questions about the history and significance of the Australian, Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander flags. The school gratefully accepted the 3 flags.

Year 3 & 4 Performing Arts
All of our Year 3 & 4 students have been involved in one of two performances.

Wakakirri is an opportunity for students to create and perform a Story Dance. Schools can choose any story, music and creative movement style they wish. Primary schools take to the stage to share their 3 – 7 minute stories. Story-Dance is a wonderful opportunity for students to develop teamwork, resilience and a range of Stage and Production skills, culminating in an exciting live performance in front of hundreds of people. Students performed on Thursday the 14 August at the Adelaide Entertainment Centre and again before the school disco on the 22 August. We are proud of their efforts and would like to acknowledge Toby Martin and his team of teachers for supporting the students to have this amazing experience. A particular mention to Sue Hamam for her administration and professional support.

Cinderella Rides Again provided an opportunity for the non Wakakirri students to enjoy a theatrical experience. Chris Lech produced and directed a most professional and polished performance. The audience appreciated the humorous script and well executed acting by our aspiring thespians.

Natural Mathematics
As a school we have been accessing professional development from Ann Baker to support students and teachers develop a new and positive approach to Mathematical challenges.

Ann has kindly agreed to hold a parent forum here when she next comes to work with the teams in the partnership. She will be holding this from 7-8.30pm on 10 September at Hallett Cove South Primary School. Ann is an educational consultant with a background in mathematics and literacy education. She specializes in working with teachers to maximize the potential of the children they teach in areas such as numeracy, literacy and thinking skills. Parents are invited to attend this evening where Ann will present a very interesting and challenging forum. Please let the front office know if you wish to attend. There will be no cost and light refreshments will be provided.

RUOK Day?
R U OK? Day is an annual day in September dedicated to remind people to ask family, friends and colleagues the question, “R U OK?” in a meaningful way. We are acknowledging the day on Thursday 11 September with a fun and interactive event hosted here at the school. The junior student will be asked to design a wellbeing poster and will be involved in wellbeing activities.

Activities include:
- Hip Hop
- An indigenous stall
- Karaoke Challenge
- Origami activities
- Crumpet club
- Name the Mascot
- a free sausage sizzle
  (thank you to the Lions Club)

Jump Rope for Heart
Established in Australia in 1983, Heart Foundation Jump Rope for Heart is renowned for being one of Australia’s most popular physical activities and fundraising programs in schools. On Friday the 22 of August the Junior School students performed their skipping routines at an R–10 assembly. Students have enjoyed honing their expertise in skipping and have enjoyed raising funds to support the Heart Foundation. PLUMBING TRAINING DAY

This month saw a Plumbing Training Day held at Hallett Cove School for schools involved in the delivery of VET Plumbing.

The training was organised by Rob Kavanagh from the Plumbing Industry Association and Andrew Richards from Reece Plumbing Supplies who demonstrated the Auspex range of plumbing products.

The training involved the various applications of the product, range of fittings and practical demonstrations of how to install the Auspex products.

Auspex products are currently being used in the Plumbing Industry and will be included in the VET Plumbing Plus course at Hallett Cove School next year.

All participants had the opportunity to use the equipment and fittings, taking samples back to their schools in preparation for 2015.

As part of the training day Harry Stassinopoulos, Deputy Principal of HCS, joined the group to learn more about the VET training in Plumbing and the career pathways that are available to our students.

Harry was impressed with the enthusiasm of the group and their willingness to learn about new products and introduce these products into their courses.

“The benefits to the students will be huge as they will be able to arrange work experience placements and have an understanding of the products and equipment used in the Plumbing industry before they start their placements. They will also be better prepared to enter employment through their exposure to the VET courses.”

“The employment outcomes have been good through these courses with a number of students taking up employment offers through the year.”

“Students who have participated in the VET Plumbing courses are well prepared for the industry with an appreciation of safety, products and work ethics.”

Overall the day was a huge success with immediate benefits to the students.
